To whom it may concern,

My name is Simon, I am a self-taught junior front-end developer. After several years in trades and metal fabrication, I transitioned to this career path, driven by a genuine passion for software development. Although I have no formal degree in the field, I have dedicated countless hours into learning and honing my skills. of this career that I find endlessly fascinating.

My education includes courses from freeCodeCamp and Udemy, complemented by mentorship from a senior developer who has guided me in modern professional software engineering practices. Alongside studying I have worked to create a portfolio of projects to show my skills, with a focus on JavaScript, HTML, CSS and a growing knowledge of React and Node.js. These projects showcase my ability to tackle complex challenges and deliver high-quality results.

I am very much eager to get my foot in the door of the industry, and to begin writing code that matters. I take immense pride in my work and am committed to continuous learning and improvement. Each day, I strive to enhance my skills and outperform my previous self.

I look forward to bringing my skill, enthusiasm, and dedication to the table. Please find my resume attached for your review.

Warm regards,

Simon
